Student Jobs & Volunteering

Student Jobs

Most students will look to earn some money through part-time employment alongside studies and / or through casual seasonal work during vacations.

Whilst this type of work is often not related to future career goals (as an internship or work placement might be) it can be a good way of earning extra cash to supplement student loans.

Whilst limited employment can be beneficial it is important to be sensible about the number of hours you take on in order to make sure that there is no impact on your studies.

In fact student jobs can significantly enhance your CV as it will develop many of the skills employers value such as team working, customer service, initiative and time management to name but a few.

Direct approaches to possible employers

Try direct approaches to possible employers.

Shops, bars and restaurants often have vacancies for part-time shop assistants, waiting staff etc.

Many retail companies will be recruiting additional staff for the Christmas period from early autumn – look out for advertisements in stores.

Information you may find useful when seeking part-time work

Getting a National Insurance (NI) number

When you start work your employer will ask for your National Insurance (NI) number. If you do not have an NI number, you should apply by telephone for an NI number by telephoning the National Insurance number application line on: 0345 600 0643. Lines are open Monday – Friday, 8am – 6pm.

You may then be invited to an interview held at a Job Centre Plus office. You are allowed to start work before you receive your NI number so long as you can prove that you do have the right to work in the UK.

For further details go to:  www.gov.uk/apply-national-insurance-number

Minimum wage

As an employee you are legally entitled to receive the National Minimum Wage for the work you do. You can find details of the latest rates online at:

www.gov.uk/national-minimum-wage-rates
Volunteering

Another good way to gain experience is via voluntary opportunities. As the name suggests, these are generally unpaid but can provide you with valuable work experience that also benefits a good cause.

A wide range of opportunities with charities or voluntary organisations can be found locally:

- https://do-it.org/ - a database of voluntary work by postcode and type of work
- www.ussu.co.uk/community/volunteering

Some private employers also offer unpaid work experience. Please note: There are particular rules which apply to unpaid work experience with private employers, and the work an employer can ask you to undertake before they are obliged to pay you the minimum wage.

Making sure opportunities are genuine

When looking for work please be aware that most websites will not vet or fully research the practices of the employers that advertise with them. Wherever you see a vacancy advertised (even if it is through our vacancy service), make sure you are happy with the terms of employment, rate of pay etc.

It is important to realise that you do not have to accept any offer of work. If you have any concerns you can seek advice from:

- Student Services Centre www.surrey.ac.uk/currentstudents/ask/
- Employability & Careers Centre www.surrey.ac.uk/careers
- Citizens Advice Bureau www.guildfordcab.org.uk
