Credits / Level of Study
15 credits / Levels 4, 5 & 6

Module Aims
The programme aims to offer a contemporary update in professional, clinical and theoretical aspects of clinical practice for nurses and midwives wishing to return to practice. This will enable returning practitioners to renew their registration and re-enter registered practice with the confidence that their skills are up-to-date and knowledge current. These practitioners will then be able to contribute to clinical effectiveness through their capacity to deliver safe and effective standards of patient and client care.

The module is designed for all practitioners previously entered on the Professional Register and who have had a break in practice and wish to return to the profession. Enrolled Nurses undertake the programme at Level 4. Nurses and Midwives undertake the programme at Level 5 or 6.

Module presentation and content is via ‘SurreyLearn’
SurreyLearn is a new approach for online learning. All assistance and guidance for use is provided within the student’s common room within SurreyLearn.

Module Content
The needs of each course member will be assessed and plans for study and clinical/practical experience structured to the individual’s requirements. The knowledge and skills required to achieve the module outcomes form the content of the taught days, the format of which is eight common foundation days and four specialist branch days. Trust induction and orientation are also required to be completed (up to four days).

Clinical / Practical Experience
The theoretical content of the course must be accompanied by appropriate clinical / practical experience, which is a minimum of 75-150 hours for nurses. The length of practice for a returnee midwife will vary according to the length of time out of practice and is set by the Local Supervisory Authority Midwifery Officer.

As a guide, if you have been out of practice for more than ten years you will be required to complete a minimum of 450 hours.

During the clinical / practical experience the generic content of the module is applied in each individual returnee’s specialist area. Practical experience should be undertaken in negation with the Mentor and the ‘Sign-Off’ Mentor.

Please see separate flyer for return to Specialist Community Public Health Nurse (SCPHN) for Health visitors.
