Introduction and scope

1. These Regulations for extenuating circumstances apply to the following students:
 - those registered on the Foundation Year and on award-bearing programmes delivered by the University
 - those registered with one of the University's Associated and Accredited Institutions (AIs) to study for an award of the University¹
 - those registered to study for the award of academic credit delivered by the University
2. In the course of their studies students may experience circumstances that temporarily diminish their ability to:
 - (i) participate in their programmes, including attendance during the Professional Training Year;
 - (ii) meet a deadline for the submission of assessment;
 - (iii) attend an examination, in-semester test, performance or other assessment-related event;²
 - (iv) undertake an examination, in-semester test, performance or other assessment related event;
 - (v) attend and/or submit documents for a postgraduate research student progress review or confirmation review meeting.
3. Students who are considering making a submission for the recognition of extenuating circumstances will find it helpful to seek advice and support from the Surrey Students' Union, or its equivalent for the Associated and Accredited Institutions.
4. The University is committed to providing a fair, consistent and accessible service. The University believes that everyone who interacts with it has the right to be heard, understood and respected. The University believes that its staff have the same rights, and the University must provide a safe working environment for its staff. The University must also ensure the efficient and effective operation of its work, so that it can provide a good service to everyone. The Procedure for managing behaviour in respect to Student Regulations and Procedures applies to everyone who interacts or communicates with the University, including students and their supporters and describes types of actions and behaviour that may interfere with its essential functions (i.e. teaching, learning, research and the administrative functions and resources those things require) and what the University is expected to do in these circumstances.

Third party requests

5. Submissions for the recognition of extenuating circumstances are made by the student. Exceptionally, and only where a student is unable to do so on their own behalf, whether through illness or other unforeseen circumstances, an application can be made by a third party on behalf of the student. In such cases, the third party must show why the student is unable to make a request on their own behalf and provide supporting evidence. The student must give their consent before the extenuating circumstances request can be processed. The evidence is submitted to the Student and Academic Administration team and a member of staff will determine whether the request should be accepted. Consultation may take place with other members of staff in complex or unusual cases, and this will be recorded. A decision will normally be made within five University working days of receiving the information.

¹ Staff titles at the AIs may not necessarily be the same as those used in the University but the activities described in these Regulations are carried out at the AIs by staff with similar responsibilities.

² The term 'event' is used in these Regulations to cover any assessment-related activity where a student is required to be in a particular place at a particular time.

Withdrawal of a request for the recognition of extenuating circumstances

6. Normally, any requests for the recognition of extenuating circumstances should be withdrawn prior to the start of an assessment event or assessment deadline. The University's approach to marking work of students with approved or pending applications for extenuating circumstances is as follows:

- Self-certified applications: all self-certified applications, whether approved or pending an outcome at the time of the event/deadline, may not be withdrawn after the submission deadline or after the start of the assessment event. Any submitted work will not be marked.
- Evidenced applications:
 - (i) Approved evidenced applications may not be withdrawn after the submission deadline or after the start of the assessment event. Any submitted work will not be marked;
 - (ii) Pending an outcome at the time of the event/deadline: where the student completes the event/submission, they may request their application is withdrawn but must do so as promptly as possible and normally no later than the same day as the assessment event/deadline. The evidence relating to the original application must still be provided and the student must also provide reasons for why they could not have withdrawn their application prior to the assessment event/deadline.

Where a student with a pending evidenced application completes the event/submission, their work will be marked as follows:

- Pending evidenced applications which are approved after the event/deadline: any submitted work will not be marked unless the application for extenuating circumstances is withdrawn in a timely manner as described above;
- Pending evidenced applications which are rejected after the event/deadline: if a student attended the assessment event/submitted their work and the pending application is subsequently rejected by the University, the submitted work will be marked.

Where a student with a pending evidenced application did not attend the assessment event/submit their work and the pending application is subsequently rejected, relevant regulations for non-submission should apply (A0 Regulations for Foundation Year: regulation 73; A1 Regulations for taught programmes: regulation 153).

Reasonable adjustments

7. Reasonable adjustments to the processes within these Regulations, including the extending of deadlines for student responses, will be made upon the production by the student of relevant third party evidence which demonstrates the need for those adjustments.

Exceptional circumstances

8. In exceptional circumstances it may be appropriate to amend the procedures set out in these Regulations, for example, where strict application of the Regulations would result in substantial unfairness to a student or a student is in some way at risk because of health or disability. Such cases will be rare and should each be treated on their own merits.

Grounds for the recognition of extenuating circumstances

9. Requests for the recognition of extenuating circumstances can be made where there has been:
- (i) bereavement through the death of a close relative or significant other that, in employment, would lead an employer to grant compassionate leave;
 - (ii) for oneself or a close relative (such as parent, child or spouse/partner) or a person who is dependent upon the student for their care:
 - serious short-term illness or accident of a nature that, in employment, would lead an employer to agree to absence on sick leave
 - a long-term chronic health problem, or other disability as defined by the Equality Act (2010), suddenly worsening
 - a flare-up of a chronic health problem, or other disability as defined by the Equality Act (2010)

In instances (i) and (ii) independent evidence of the nature of the relationship and/or the dependency will be required (see regulation 10 below);
 - (iii) a late diagnosis of a condition for which reasonable adjustments are required such that the student has not received the support they needed;
 - (iv) for students enrolled on part-time programmes and distance learning programmes who are in employment, an increase in their workload due to circumstances beyond their control, or being required by their employer to work through periods normally available for study and/or assessment;
 - (v) other exceptional circumstances that have or will have in the future, affected the student's ability to meet a deadline or to attend an event. Such circumstances will be considered on a case-by-case basis and may include participation in international sporting events, jury service and military service.

Evidence required for the recognition of extenuating circumstances

10. Requests for the recognition of extenuating circumstances that are not self-certified are required to be accompanied by independent supporting evidence (self-certification is described in regulations 22-23 below).

This should be set out in English or accompanied by certified translations where appropriate. A request can be submitted in anticipation of the receipt of the supporting evidence. The required evidence is as follows:

- (i) for bereavement:

B1: Regulations for extenuating circumstances

- a death certificate or a signed and dated letter from a minister of religion, medical practitioner, police officer, solicitor, magistrate or other officer of the law or a person with equivalent professional standing who is not related to the student submitting the request, a funeral notice, an order of service, a published obituary;
- (ii) for illness:
- a signed and dated letter from a medical practitioner (GP or clinical specialist) that states the dates when the illness affected the patient and how the circumstances affected or are likely to affect the student's ability to prepare, submit or attend for an assessment or other event; and
 - where the patient is a close relative (such as parent, child or spouse/partner) and the student and the patient do not share a family name, independent evidence of the nature of the relationship of the patient to the student submitting the request. This could be an official document such as a birth certificate or a statement from a person of professional standing who is not related to the student; and
 - where the patient is dependent upon the student for their care, independent evidence of the nature of the caring responsibilities;
 - where the patient has a chronic condition that is subject to flare-ups or a sudden worsening, a signed and dated letter from a medical practitioner (GP or clinical specialist) that states the nature of the condition and how flare-ups or a sudden worsening are likely to affect the student's ability to prepare, submit or attend for an assessment or other event. Once this evidence has been provided on the first occasion there is no need to do so on subsequent occasions, although the student will still need to submit a request for extenuating circumstances on each occasion;
- (iii) for a late diagnosis of a disability resulting in the need for reasonable adjustments, confirmation from Disability and Neuroinclusion of the diagnosis and the date it was made and details of any delays to the implementation of the required reasonable adjustments;
- (iv) for a student awaiting a diagnosis of an illness or condition for themselves or a close relative or dependent other:
- a signed and dated letter from a medical practitioner (GP or clinical specialist) or from Disability and Neuroinclusion if the student is awaiting a diagnosis that Disability and Neuroinclusion have arranged an assessment for, that states the dates when the student or patient attended for treatment, when tests were undertaken, and when a diagnosis is expected; and
 - where the patient is a close relative (such as parent, child or spouse/partner) and the student and the patient do not share a family name, independent evidence of the nature of the relationship of the patient to the student submitting the request. This could be an official document such as a birth certificate or a statement from a person of professional standing who is not related to the student; and
 - where the patient is dependent upon the student for their care, independent evidence of the nature of the caring responsibilities;
- (v) for accident or injury to the student:

B1: Regulations for extenuating circumstances

- a copy of an accident report provided by a police officer, Magistrate, or Magistrate's Clerk, or a signed and dated letter from a medical practitioner (GP or clinical specialist);
 - in all cases where a letter is provided it must state the dates when the accident or injury affected the student, the position and qualification(s) of the person providing the letter and their contact details;
- (vi) for significant adverse personal or family circumstances being encountered by the student:
- a signed and dated letter from one or more of the following; a medical practitioner (GP or clinical specialist), a social worker (stating their position with respect to the student), an officer of the law, a teacher outside the University, a minister of religion;
 - the letter they provide must give their position and qualification(s) and their contact details and must provide information on the time when the circumstances occurred and whether they are continuing;
- (vii) for University of Surrey Sports Scholars:
- a letter from their coach/Surrey Sports Park detailing the reasons for the request such as participation in national and international sports events and/or specific training requirements;
- (viii) for students enrolled on part-time programmes and distance learning students in employment, who have experienced an increase in their workload due to circumstances beyond their control, or have been required by their employer or a client to work through periods normally available for study and/or assessment:
- where they are in employment; a signed and dated letter from their employer, or their employer's authorised representative, stating that the student has been required by them to undertake work in the interests of the employer and, if relevant, that this was in time that had previously been agreed would be available for the student to study, prepare for assessment or other event, or take an assessment or attend another event;
 - where they are self-employed; evidence from their client or the client's authorised representative stating that they have required the student to undertake unforeseen work that was necessary in the interests of the client's business, together with the dates and times when the student had been required to meet the client or undertake the previously unforeseen work;
- (ix) for military service:
- the individual's call-up papers (translated where necessary);
- (x) for other exceptional circumstances:
- official documentation relevant to the event which may include court or legal papers.
11. This evidence will be considered in the context of the other available information and on a case-by-case basis.
12. Where supporting evidence is provided it will be taken at face value. However, the University reserves the right to make follow-up enquiries to establish the authenticity of the documentation provided. If at any stage of an application the evidence put forward to support the application can be shown to have been dishonestly acquired or is itself dishonest and/or can be shown to be an unreasonable demand or an unreasonable persistence (as detailed in the Procedure for managing behaviour in respect to Student Regulations and Procedures), the application will be closed and the evidence submitted to the University's disciplinary procedures as specified in the Student disciplinary regulations. The same approach will be taken if it can be shown that the student has tried to mislead the University about their case.

13. The following are not sufficient grounds for the recognition of extenuating circumstances:
- (i) self-certified illness or medical circumstances (if claimed after the submission deadline or start of the timed assessment event as set out in regulation 24 below);
 - (ii) claimed circumstances for which appropriate adjustments have already been made by the University;
 - (iii) a claim for recognition of a medical condition that relies on evidence that does not relate to the time when the illness or condition occurred;
 - (iv) a long-term health condition where there is no evidence of a sudden worsening of the condition, other than those documented in accordance with regulation 10 (ii) bullet point four above (if claimed after the submission deadline or start of the timed assessment event as set out in regulation 24);
 - (v) a minor illness that would not normally lead a responsible and reasonable employed person to take sick leave;
 - (vi) circumstances stated to be unforeseen that a reasonable person would view as foreseeable or preventable;
 - (vii) holidays, including getting married, attendance at marriages, festivals and like events;
 - (viii) poor working practices such as:
 - failure to back up electronic documents regularly and securely
 - failure on the part of the student to acquaint themselves with the times, dates, and places where assessments were to be submitted or examinations sat
 - poor time management;
 - (ix) failure on the part of the student to acquaint themselves with the University's Regulations and assessment procedures including procedures for reporting illness or unforeseen circumstances affecting their studies or assessments and support arrangements;
 - (x) workload as a result of undertaking a course at an institution elsewhere.

Burden of proof

14. When making a request for the recognition of extenuating circumstances it is for the student to show that one of the circumstances listed in regulation 9 above apply.

Standard of proof

15. The standard of proof applied is that of the balance of probability; that it is more likely than not something was or was not the case.

Confidentiality and General Data Protection Regulations

16. The University deals with submissions for the recognition of extenuating circumstances in confidence, to the extent that this is compatible with making enquiries and holding meetings to consider the matter. The University collects and processes a variety of personal data in order to fulfil relevant student regulations (see the Regulations web page for a list of all Student Regulations). This personal data may be provided by the student or collected from other departments within the University or taken from publicly available sources such as social media. The University processes personal data for this purpose in its legitimate interests. Some regulations will require the sharing of sensitive personal data (defined as “special category” data by data protection legislation). The University processes and shares special category data in the substantial public interest and only where it is necessary to enable the University to fulfil its duties of care to the student, other students, or to safeguard third parties. More detail on the types of data collected and how it is used to meet this need can be found in the Student Regulations Privacy Notice, available at the above link.
17. Each submission by a student for the recognition of extenuating circumstances, together with the supporting information they provide, is stored securely and separately by the Student and Academic Administration team in accordance with the University's standard records retention policy and arrangements. Confidential information in applications is not linked to a student's individual record on the University's student record system (SITS) but the date of the application and the assessment(s) to which it relates are recorded.

Requests for the recognition of extenuating circumstances

18. Where students encounter such circumstances as listed in regulation 9 above, they should submit a request for the recognition of extenuating circumstances in accordance with these Regulations at the earliest opportunity and in advance of the deadline or start of the event affected. Requests made after the deadline or start of the timed assessment event will be considered with supporting evidence as set out in regulations 38-41 below. Requests for the recognition of extenuating circumstances are made to the Student and Academic Administration team via the Student Self Service facility, details of which are available on the Office of Student Complaints, Appeals and Regulation (OSCAR) web pages.
19. If the extenuating circumstances occur during an event, or if they are only appreciated after a deadline or event, additional processing conditions are applied to the request as detailed in regulations 32-41 below.
20. The possible outcomes of requests for the recognition of extenuating circumstances are detailed in regulations 28-31 below. On no account can a student's marks be increased as a result of the recognition of extenuating circumstances.
21. The process for extenuating circumstances should not be used by a student to request a period of temporary withdrawal or interruption of studies. In those instances the procedures set out in the Regulations for taught programmes or the Regulations for research degrees apply.

Self-certification

22. Students who are experiencing valid extenuating circumstances may submit a maximum of one self-certified application for extenuating circumstances in each academic semester and the Late Summer Assessment period³. The student is not required to submit evidence with a self-certified application. When submitting the application the student is required to select which valid ground applies to their case. Students who are able to submit an application with evidence should do so. BMBS students are not able to submit self-certified applications for extenuating circumstances. All applications from BMBS students should be accompanied by evidence.

23. Each self-certified application will cover a maximum period of five University working days. Students may not submit self-certified applications to extend a previously self-certified extension. If additional time is required, the student may submit an application with evidence.
24. Students may submit self-certified applications for all types of assessment. Self-certification can only take place in advance of the submission deadline or the start of the timed assessment event.
25. Students may convert a previous self-certified application for extenuating circumstances into an evidenced application if they submit valid and contemporaneous evidence before the end of the relevant semester. The application will continue to be classified as self-certified until the new evidence has been approved.

Checking of applications

26. Checks are completed by staff in the Student and Academic Administration team for all requests for the recognition of extenuating circumstances to determine whether the request, or authorising the request will:
 - lead to the student exceeding their maximum period of registration
 - raise concerns over the student's fitness to study
27. Where the request meets the grounds and evidence requirements set out in regulations 9 and 10 above, the following checks are also completed:
 - for programmes with a professional practice element, where completion of the programme also confers eligibility to apply for registration with a Registration Body, the relevant Programme Leader will be consulted to determine whether there is a need to refer to the fitness to practise procedure
 - for requests made during a Professional Training Year (PTY), the Employability and Careers Office will be consulted to determine the likely effect of authorising the request on the student's ability to complete their PTY
 - where a postgraduate research student requests an extension to the deadline for submission of documents to a progress review or confirmation review meeting and/or extension to the date of the review meeting itself, the appropriate Associate Dean (Doctoral College) will be consulted via the Research Degrees team.

Outcomes

28. Requests for the recognition of extenuating circumstances are normally processed within five University working days of receipt of all required information. Standard maximum extension periods to the coursework deadline are as follows:

³ Where a programme's academic year structure includes three academic terms instead of two semesters, students may submit a maximum of one self-certified application per each term.

- Self-certified applications: five University working days from the date of the original assessment deadline
- Evidenced applications: 10 University working days from the date of the original assessment deadline

Students who request more than 10 University working days will be required to defer the assessment until the next available assessment period. In exceptional cases, the relevant member of staff will be consulted to determine whether to allow an exceptional extension to the coursework deadline by another five University working days or to offer an alternative assessment.

29. If the circumstances are deemed valid by a Student and Academic Administration member of staff, the outcome is one of the following⁴:

- an extension to the coursework deadline (subject to regulation 28 above)
- a deferral of the coursework/event to the next appropriate assessment period
- the removal of a late submission penalty
- an alternative assessment and/or extension and/or deferral
- an extension to the deadline for submission of documents to a postgraduate research student progress review or confirmation review meeting and/or an extension to the date of the review meeting itself

If the student requires additional time, or experiences further extenuating circumstances, they may submit a further application.

30. If the extenuating circumstances application is not deemed valid by a Student and Academic Administration member of staff⁵ the student will be notified of the outcome and also that:

- where the deadline or event is yet to happen they can, provided they are able to obtain the necessary information, submit a new request for the recognition of extenuating circumstances. The student additionally has the right to submit an academic appeal against the decision using the Regulations for academic appeals.
- where the deadline or event has passed but the Board of Examiners (for taught programmes), or academic body (for postgraduate research programmes) has not yet met, provided they are able to obtain the necessary evidence, they can submit a new request for the recognition of extenuating circumstances. The student additionally has the right to submit an academic appeal against the decision using the Regulations for academic appeals.
- where the deadline or event has passed and the Board of Examiners or academic body has met they have the right to submit an academic appeal against the decision using the Regulations for academic appeals.

31. It is possible whether the request is successful or not that one of the following is also arranged:

- meeting with the student's Personal Tutor

⁴ An exception applies to the outcome of valid applications submitted by BMBS students. Please consult local guidance for further information.

⁵ Consultation may take place with other members of staff in complex or unusual cases, and this will be recorded.

- creation of a Managed Study Plan with possible referral to the support to study procedures (see Regulations for support to study)
- referral to fitness to practise procedures (see Regulations for fitness to practise)

Requests during an event

32. Where a student is taken ill or is affected by unforeseen circumstances during an event and they are unable to complete the event they must:
- advise the invigilator (or appropriate member of staff if the event is not a written examination) of their situation and complete an “unfit to continue” form; and
 - follow this up by submitting an application for the recognition of extenuating circumstances with the relevant supporting evidence within five University working days after the affected event
33. Where a student is taken ill or is affected by unforeseen circumstances during an event but is able to complete the event, they must advise the invigilator, or appropriate member of staff of their situation. If the student wishes for their extenuating circumstances to be taken into account, they may then follow this up by an application for the recognition of extenuating circumstances with the relevant supporting evidence within five University working days after the affected event.
34. If the nature of the extenuating circumstances prohibit the student from providing the relevant supporting evidence within five University working days, they may still submit a request provided that:
- there are valid reasons why they were unable to provide the required evidence within five University working days; and
 - the Board of Examiners or academic body has not yet met
- Otherwise the student will be referred to OSCAR and the Regulations for academic appeals.

Outcomes

35. In addition to the outcome details provided in regulations 28-31 above, where the student has not completed an event and the extenuating circumstances are deemed to be valid, the Board of Examiners or academic body will void the attempt and the student will sit/resit it at the next appropriate assessment / reassessment opportunity.
36. Where a student has completed the event and the extenuating circumstances are deemed to be valid the Faculty will be instructed not to assess the work, or if the work has already been assessed, the marks/grade will be voided and not recorded, not presented to the student and not presented to the Board of Examiners or academic body⁶. The student will sit/resit the attempt at the next appropriate assessment/reassessment opportunity.
37. If the extenuating circumstances are not deemed valid the work will be marked and presented to the Board of Examiners or academic body, or if already marked will be presented to the Board of Examiners or academic body. The student has the right to submit an academic appeal against the decision using the Regulations for academic appeals.

Requests after a deadline or event and where the Board or Examiners or academic body has not yet met

38. Where a student makes a request for the recognition of extenuating circumstances after a deadline or the start of an event and the work in question is also subject to an allegation of academic misconduct, the request will be rejected and the student will be referred to the Regulations for academic misconduct.
39. Provided that the work in question is not subject to an allegation of academic misconduct, in addition to the required evidence detailed in regulation 10 above, the student is also required to show, with supporting evidence, why it was not possible for them to notify the University of their circumstances before the deadline or the event or at the time of the event. The following may be considered to be valid reasons for not having provided evidence of the extenuating circumstances at the time:
- that the student was awaiting a diagnosis of their illness or condition or its confirmation and they submitted a request at the appropriate time whilst awaiting receipt of the evidence
 - that the nature of the illness impaired the student's capacity to report it
 - that the student did not have access at the time to their medical practitioner (including GP or clinical specialist) or registered counsellor, their minister of religion, or solicitor, to provide support and the required independent evidence
 - that a significant traumatic event has impaired the student's capacity to report it

Outcomes

40. In addition to the outcome details provided in regulations 28-31 above, where the extenuating circumstances are deemed valid and evidence has been provided for the delay in the submission of the request the Faculty will be instructed not to mark the work, or if the work has already been marked the marks will be voided and not recorded, not presented to the student and not presented to the Board of Examiners or academic body⁷. The student will sit/resit the attempt at the next appropriate assessment/reassessment opportunity.
41. If the extenuating circumstances are not deemed valid the work will be marked and presented to the Board of Examiners or academic body, or if already marked, will be presented to the Board of Examiners or academic body. The student has the right to submit an academic appeal against the decision using the Regulations for academic appeals.

Requests where a Board of Examiners or academic body has met

42. If a student submits a request for the recognition of extenuating circumstances and the issue that is the subject of the request is subject to a decision of a Board of Examiners or academic body which has already met then the student is referred to OSCAR and the Regulations for academic appeals.

⁷ An exception applies to the outcome of valid applications submitted by BMBS students. Please consult local guidance for further information.

Repeated requests for the recognition of extenuating circumstances

43. For continuing circumstances that are, by definition, foreseeable the student is expected to make continuing arrangements whether through arranging additional learning support through an additional learning support statement or by taking steps to improve their circumstances.
44. Repeated requests from the same student for the recognition of extenuating circumstances may result in the matter being considered in accordance with the Regulations for support for study or Regulations for fitness to practise.
